St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 4.—Three additional boxes were sent early today in the kidnaping case of the Viviano children, Grace and Alfonso, who are being held for $25,000 ransom. The police have announced that they believe the children were put in trunks and shipped out of the city.

Trunks Are Located.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 4.—The trunks which figure in the kidnaping of the two Viviano children at St. Louis are at the Adams Express company warehouse in this city. The consignee, according to the address on the shipment, is "Bernadette Louis," while in the way-bill it appears as "Bernadette Louis." Neither of these names appears in the city directory.

Abandon First Theory.

The St. Louis police have telephoned the Chicago authorities that they do not now think that the bodies of the children are contained in the trunks, but they are positive that the latter are consigned to the person who has possession of the children.

USE A BALLOON TO AID IN WAR

THOUSANDS WILL TAKE PART

Madrid, Aug. 4.—That thousands of tribesmen are getting ready for a great battle with Spanish troops, possibly today, in the vicinity of Mount Guruga in Morocco, was reported by spies who watched the preparations for the fight from a balloon.

Gen. Marina, commander in Morocco, is awaiting reinforcements. As soon as the needed troops arrive the advanced positions at Mount Atlayon and Sidiannet will be strengthened preparatory to an advance upon Zolun, the Spanish objective.

Red Cross Aids Wounded.

The Red Cross and other organizations are working ceaselessly to care for the sick and wounded, both at Melilla and at Spanish ports. The Bank of Spain has contributed $10,000 to the Spanish fund.

A report from Gen. Marina describes a successful maneuver against the Moors. The Spanish commander set a trap for the enemy in the foothills of Mount Guruga. While he maneuvered several battalions in front of the Moorish position the battleship Numancla steamed down the coast to be in a position to take the enemy in the rear. The Moors moved forward and fell under the concentrated fire of the fort and the Numancla. They retreated in disorder leaving many dead.

Attack in the Dark.

A large body of Moors stole out in the darkness from the foothills of Mount Guruga and rained bullets for three hours upon the half completed fortress. The small Spanish contingent defended the black-house valiantly and then a Spanish column of six companies hurried up to the rescue and succeeded in dispersing the enemy.

During the fighting the Moors destroyed 150 meters of the railroad line. A large number of their dead were carried off in the retreat.

Gen. Marina has issued urgent orders for the restoration of the railroad and the completion of the black-house, which is necessary to assure communication.

THOUSANDS OF VOTES DAILY
to Win—Work and Perseverance Will Count.

With the passing of each day the interest in the contest is spreading more and more, and the enthusiasm of the contestants is reaching a higher pitch. From the hundreds given the work of gathering the free popular vote, during the past few days, it is an assured fact that the project will be one of the greatest successes ever conducted by any newspaper.

Both in the city and in the territory compressed in the two country districts over which the contest extends, there is the element of activity that bespeaks the favorably for some great things during the next few weeks, or even days. Every day many votes are resolved which completely changes the aspect of the contest in certain districts.

Either a plane or a diamond ring, a scholarship or a gold watch, can be won by any contestant who is industrious and popular enough to organize his friends and wage an aggressive campaign. The prizes are sought for, and they will be eagerly sought for, and it will stand the candidate well in hand to always be watchful and keep up a lively interest in The Gazette's contest.

The prizes are magnificent enough to cause any to enter any heart and every one in the territory mentioned as being included in the contest would gladly be made the recipient of any of them. They will be distributed only in accordance with the wishes of the people who live in the different communities, and, it therefore behooves every candidate to be up and doing as well as to call upon your friends and get them to aid and assist you in your campaign for popular free votes that means a triumph.

It is the person with the everlasting stick-to-itiveness that will win in a contest of this kind. It is too early in the contest for anyone to have secured any great advantage. The difference of a few thousand votes doesn't mean more than one or two yearly subscriptions, when you realize that you are entitled to 14,000 votes for a new yearly subscription in the city and 7,000 in the rural.

Votes are allowed to patron upon payment for subscriptions, for new subscriptions, and also by coupons printed in the paper daily. No increase in the price of the subscription is made, and it is therefore a pleasure for the candidates to go among their friends and solicit their votes in the contest that will prove the popularity of the young women in the localities over which the contest extends.

When sending in subscriptions, be sure to state whether they are old or new subscribers.

Candidates should poll a few votes every day to let their friends know that they are still in the race. But by all means keep a reserve for the last. If no one knows how many votes you have it will be much harder to defeat you than if you have all your votes in the paper where everyone can see how you stand and know just what it takes to beat you.

Diamonds and Watches on Display.

The attention of the contestants and their friends is called to the beautiful diamonds and watches which The Gazette is giving as prizes. These are on display in the show window of Olin & Olson's jewelry store on W. Milwaukee street. These gentlemen have invited the contestants and friends to call at any time and inspect these prizes in color and cut and where is the girl who would not wish to possess just such a diamond? While visiting the store of Olin & Olson do not fail to see our watches. They are 17 jewel watches and will be increased in either a solid gold or a guaranteed case of 25 years.

How Votes are Secured.

The votes are given free to new and old readers of The Gazette who pay a certain amount on subscriptions, at the regular rate. The payment can be made to any candidate or to the office direct. The number of votes allowed is in proportion to the amount paid.

Read This Carefully.

A NEW subscriber is one who was not taking The Gazette at the inauguration of this contest July 12, and an OLD subscriber is one who is now getting The Gazette (with the exception of those that started during the contest). Old subscribers paying in advance don't make them NEW.

A great many people do not understand, and for their satisfaction we wish to say that anyone starting to take the paper since the contest started will always be considered a new subscriber during the life of the contest and votes given now, and pay more later during the contest, you will receive the same number of votes as a new subscriber.

Open Evenings.

For the benefit of those who cannot call during business hours this office and contest department will be open every evening until 8 o'clock.

THE NEW WOMAN
Made Over by Quilting Coffee.

Coffee probably wrecks a greater percentage of Southerners than of Northern people for Southerners use it more freely.

"The work it does is astounding enough in some instances; as in the case of a woman of Richmond, Va., writes:

"I was a coffee drinker for years and for about six years my health was completely shattered. I suffered fearfully with headaches and nervousness, also palpitation of the heart and loss of appetite.

"My sight gradually began to fail and finally I lost the sight of one eye altogether. The eye was operated upon and the sight partially restored, then I became totally blind in the other eye.

"My doctor used to urge me to give up coffee but I was willful and continued to drink it until finally in a case of severe illness the doctor stated that I must give up the coffee, so I began using Postum and in a month I felt like a new creature.

"I actually gained in health and strength. About a month ago I began using Grape-Nuts food and the effect has been wonderful. I really feel like a new woman and have gained about 25 pounds.

"I am quite an elderly lady and before using Postum and Grape-Nuts I could not walk a square without exclaiming fatigue, now I walk ten or twelve without feeling it. Formerly in reading I could remember but little but now my memory holds fast what I read.

"Several friends who have seen the remarkable effects of Postum and Grape-Nuts on me have urged that I give the facts to the public for the sake of suffering humanity, so, although I dislike publicity, you can publish this letter if you like."

Read "The Road to Wellville," in pages, "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

Were you ever in a street car when a woman with a real duck of a baby got in?

Before her arrival all the women had been studying the woman in the stunning apricot linen gown, and mentally jotting down how the thing was put together. And the woman in the apricot linen gown had been sunning herself in the exquisite sunshine of her sisters' envy, the way the best-dressed woman in the car always does.

But when the baby arrived, all the other women completely forgot there was such a thing as an apricot creation in the car. For they immediately became too much engrossed in vying with each other for the baby's smiles and in asking each other whether it were nearer four or six months old and if it wouldn't have been better to keep it in long clothes a few weeks longer, to notice anything else.

And was the apricot lady jealous of the new attraction?

Well, when the new attraction copy let the blue and white celluloid ring it had been chewing slide to the floor, it was the apricot lady herself who dove into the dust for it and proudly restored it.

And they say American women are getting to be more interested in gowns and clubs than babies.

I guess "they" just don't use their eyes.

Out of the gleanings of your summer reading, why not make a feast for someone? In other words, why not commence a friendship calendar?

All the materials you will need in its making are 365 sheets of paper about three by five inches in size, and a mind.

The sheets are to be dated for the year 1910, on each being written the day of the month and if you are not a very busy person, the day of the week, as

Saturday, January 1.

Under this write some little sentiment, either in prose or verse, some clever epigram or amusing nonsense rhyme or some witty reminder of a joke or good time that you and the recipient-to-be of the calendar have shared.

Holidays should, of course, be marked by appropriate quotations, and don't forget some special message of congratulation for her birthday.

Don't try to do the whole thing at once. Get a good start some summer afternoon when you want something to do to make you forget the heat, and then do two or three pages every night.

Such a calendar is a fine Christmas gift to give some wealthy friend for whom you could buy no merely material gift that she could not have easily gotten for herself.

And if the expenditure of thought is the ideal ingredient for a Christmas gift—and I think it is—a friendship calendar is an ideal Christmas gift for anyone.

TO VOTE ON THE TARIFF BILL

"JOKER" IS KNOCKED OUT

Western Senators Win in Their Battle Against Leather Schedule and a Concurrent Resolution is Introduced to Amend the "Mistake."

Washington, Aug. 4.—The senate will vote on the adoption of the conference committee's report on the tariff bill to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock, opposition having faded away in a listless session yesterday.

The lack of interest in the proceedings which was evident was caused by an agreement on the part of western senators to vote on the conference report and to correct the hide and leather schedule by means of a concurrent resolution to be acted upon separately.

To Change Bill's Language.

The form of the concurrent resolution was agreed upon in an informal conference in Senator Aldrich's committee room. Instructions are given by this resolution to the enrolling clerks of the senate and house to change the language of the proviso reducing duties on boots and shoes and harness.

The change will make dutiable at ten per cent, "boots and shoes, the upper leather of which is made wholly or in chief value from the hides or skins of cattle, including calf-skins." A similar change will be made in relation to harness, saddles and saddlery.

The effect of the amendment is to make the reduced duties on boots and shoes and harness and saddlery apply to such articles as are composed of leather from the hides and skins of cattle and calf-skins, instead of confining the reductions to articles made from hides which have hitherto been dutiable. The range of the reduction is greatly increased.

Bailey Suggests Vote Agreement.

The suggestion for an agreement to vote was made in the senate by Mr. Bailey, representing the minority, and was at once concurred in by the chairman of the finance committee. The Texas intimated that there might be considerable debate on the concurrent resolution, but it is not believed that the discussion can be continued many hours.

Senator Culberson gave notice that he would seek to amend the concurrent resolution by placing cotton bagging on the free list, that article having been placed there by the senate and removed by the conference.

Authority Given the President.

Questions by Senator Newlands in debate on the conference report called forth a statement from Mr. Aldrich to the effect that he believed the conference provision giving the president authority to gather information relating to the enforcement of the maximum and minimum clause was broad and would be found to be more effective than contemplated by the clause as originally adopted by the senate. It would, he thought, authorize the collection of statistics of cost of production at home and abroad.

Announcing that he could not vote for the conference report, Senator Clapp spoke at length in denunciation of the pending measure and Senator McCumber spoke briefly in its support.

FT. WAYNE, IND., ON FIRE.

WITH ENTHUSIASM OVER A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

A well-known scientist recently introduced to the people of Ft. Wayne a discovery resulting from years of hard study, extensive travel and much experimenting that has become the talk of thousands and has not that city on fire with enthusiasm over the many wonderful things it has done.

Scores of people who have suffered for years with some chronic ailment have been restored to perfect health after using this discovery—a short while. The discovery is principally composed of a collection of roots that are soaked in hot water, then the juice is extracted from them. It is called Root Juice. Many say that the energizing effects of one swallow of the juice is almost instantaneous. It seems that it relieves almost any trouble of the stomach, bowels, kidneys and liver and that its soothing, healing and tonic action on the digestive and secretory organs is so rapid that even some of the worst cases of indigestion, constipation and nervousness, kidney troubles and rheumatism are perceptibly benefited from the very start.

SEE FAILURE FOR HARRY K. THAW

IS DANGEROUS, SAY EXPERTS

Becomes Ruffled and Is Near Collapse When Jerome Questions Him About Notes Found in His Clothing at Mattewan.

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 4.—Disinterested lawyers and other persons who have been following the trend of the sanity hearing, today expressed the belief that Harry K. Thaw will be sent back to the asylum at Mattewan by Justice Mills.

The hearing may end to-morrow and in the event of an adverse decision Thaw's counsel, under the laws of New York, may, if he desires, make immediate application for another writ of habeas corpus.

Confronted by notes, clippings and a mass of memorandum found in his clothing at Mattewan asylum by Dr. Ames T. Baker, Thaw turned pale, became confused and his mutterings were so incoherent the stenographer was unable to get a tangible declaration on the court minutes.

The district attorney took no advantage of his nervous condition. He halted the cross-examination after Thaw again offered the explanation that the notes had been made for information of counsel.

Thaw Is Near Collapse.

Thaw's showing on the stand was by far the worst exhibition of the hearing. He evidently felt the force of Dr. Baker's declaration that he was a dangerous lunatic and went to the witness stand when Jerome called him, at a great disadvantage. His face twitched and he continually turned in his chair, nervously handling the papers that Jerome handed him. After he read the letters his voice dropped at times until even those nearest him were unable to hear him.

Justice Mills again stopped into the case and from Dr. Baker obtained facts regarding the mental condition of the slayer of Stanford White. The result of his questioning might be claimed as an advantage by either side. The witness said that he did not consider the opportunities he had to examine the prisoner sufficient to permit him to form a satisfactory conclusion, nevertheless, he declared his belief that the prisoner was now insane and that his release would be a menace to public safety.

Mills Recalls Burch Murder.

Justice Mills recalled the Jennie Burch murder in which he had directed the defendant's acquittal on the ground of insanity. After two months in the asylum she was discharged cured and free.

"Do you notice any change in Mr. Thaw either way?" he inquired.

"Not he is no worse, no better."

"Suppose you had this man Thaw with no previous history of the case, what would have been your position?"

"This man showed certain evidences of mental feebleness. I should have had strong suspicions of him confined to the data at hand. My position is that the man is insane."

Calla Thaw Public Menace.

"That's enough," said Justice Mills. "And when you say he is insane you mean his being at large would be a public menace?"

"Yes, sir."

This followed Dr. Baker's examination, and then Mr. Jerome recalled Thaw.

Jerome put in evidence two letters written by Thaw, one concerning Evelyn Nesbit and couched in such romantic language that the writer himself concluded: "I did not start to write poetry."

Jerome questioned the witness again regarding his famous "green pencil" letter, in which he compared himself to a white pencil that wrote green when a green light fell on it.

White's influence being the green light, Thaw said he thought the figure such a one as a sane man would use.

Says Thaw Dominates Council.

"I noticed almost from the first," said Dr. Austin Flint, commenting on his observation of Thaw at the first trial, "an attitude of extreme importance. His manner was that common to one affected with paranoia. It was what we call the 'in sane aspect.' It seemed to me a lack of appreciation of his peril."

The witness said Thaw appeared to dominate his counsel entirely. Speaking of the present hearing, Dr. Flint declared he had observed the same attitude on Thaw's part. "I think he has taken a more active part than ever before," he said.

WAS DROWNED IN AN IOWA RIVER

C. J. SINGER OF THIS CITY LOST LIFE.

JUST BELOW CEDAR RAPIDS

As Result of Capsizing of a Boat—Companion Has Flew—Wife and Child Survive Him.

C. J. Singer, a perfumery salesman whose wife and two-year old child dwell with Mrs. Singer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anna Oltersson, at 620 South River street, is reported to have been drowned in the Cedar river, while fishing with a companion, several miles below the city of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Yesterday's issue of the Daily Republican, published in that city, contained the following account of the fatality:

"Monger news reached this city Monday of a drowning in the Cedar river when a boat containing two fishermen was capsized. There seems to be considerable mystery surrounding the affair, it being reported that the other man said he could not wait for the inquest and left hurriedly. The drowned man's boat was found tangled up in the oars and the boat. It contained letters indicating that his name was C. J. Singer of Janesville, Wis., a salesman by occupation. He is said to have been registered at the Grand Hotel some weeks ago."

Mrs. Harriet Singer, who has been informed regarding the tragedy, when she saw the newspaper account this morning, she said that Mr. Singer left here four weeks ago and that she received a letter from him last week stating that he was going on a camping and fishing trip near Cedar Rapids. She gave him as thirty and stated he was born in Cincinnati. They were married in Milwaukee five years ago. Mr. Singer had not been away for some time past and it is understood that he was traveling about the country mainly for the purpose of bettering his health.

FOUR ANSWERED TO DRUNKENNESS CHARGES

In Municipal Court This Morning And Each One Gave the Good Old Christian Name of John.

John is the name of the favorite given name adopted by a number of the men who were charged with drunkenness who are haled into municipal court by the police for drunkenness. There were four this morning—John Burns, John Crotty, John Brown, and John Erickson. Of the four, John Brown seems to have most successfully sunk his identity. He is a crippled street merchant, claims Rockford as his home, but evidently found in Janesville a better market or at least more congenial surroundings. He was fined $2.50, but sentence was suspended to allow him to leave for Rockford as he had a ticket for that town and promised to leave for the first car. Erickson also drew the same fine and went to jail for five days in default of enough to pay the fine. Burns and Crotty pleaded not guilty to the charge and their case was adjourned until this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

STRIKERS KEPT THE POLICE VERY BUSY

And a Large Number of Them Are "Reposing in the Lock-up—Many Are Wards of 'Hinky Dink'."

Although the members of the steel gang who went on a strike Monday protested that they wanted what money they had coming for the purpose of buying clothes, it is a safe prediction that few of the men of Janesville suddenly became rich as a result of their outlay in the line of haberdashery. No sooner had the majority of the gang received their wages than they scattered. Their little last night and this morning left little doubt in regard to the places they had visited. Most of them congregated at the Five Points last night and scandalized the chance wayfarers by their actions. A number left town during the night and of those who are left, there are as many in the lock-up as there are working. It is said that most of the gang were recruited from "Hinky Dink's" working man's home in Chicago, and their actions strongly corroborate the statement. The police were compelled to make several trips on their account last night and this morning and it is thought that a number will be brought up in municipal court tomorrow morning and given their deserts.

When Chief Klein's direction, the new Ahrens fire steamer was given another test at the west end of the Fourth avenue bridge last evening. It threw water from four 300-foot lines, with one-inch nozzles, at the rate of 1,040 gallons a minute and the show, which would have been better had the water in the raceway been deep enough to afford perfect suction. With two 300-foot lines and 1½-inch nozzles it delivered 330 gallons of water per minute.

SLAWSON AND WELLS FINED FOR ASSAULT

Complaining Witness, Kelly, Who Was Victim of Highway Robbery Could Not Be Located Today.

Ray Slawson and Jesse Wells, alleged to have been implicated in the robbery of John Kelly Saturday night at a resort on South River street, and from the testimony given, entered in the proceedings while their companions, Hugh Waggoner, reaped the benefits of the hold-up, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery this afternoon in municipal court and since the victim did not appear, two of a jury fined with the alternative of a jail sentence. Slawson was fined $2 and half the costs, which amounted to $12.50. Wells was fined $3 and half the costs, amounting to $15.00. The latter paid his fine immediately, while Slawson evaded arrangements to do so before evening.

In view of the fact that Kelly was unable to locate him, it was thought best not to push the charge of robbery by violence against the two, and they were allowed to plead guilty to the charge of assault and battery. This does not mean that the case against Waggoner will not be pushed. It is plain that he was the prime mover in the crime and if caught will probably be sent over the road. The fact that Slawson has a wife and child and that both of the prisoners appeared more or less in the light of tools in the crime accounted for the light sentences.

When the highway robbery case was called this morning, Jesse Wells was placed on the stand and questioned by his attorney, W. H. Dougherty, and afterwards by District Attorney Fisher and Atty. J. J. Cunningham who is acting for Ray Slawson. In the examination, corroborated the narrative given by Albert Landko yesterday afternoon. He stated that after leaving the Campbell & Knap's saloon Saturday night about 11 o'clock, the quartet—Wells, Waggoner, Slawson and Landko—proceeded to May Robinson's resort on South River street where they were refused admission. At the time the robbery occurred, Landko, together with Wells were talking to a landlady at the side door; Slawson was leaning against the side of the house; while Waggoner was not to be seen. When they turned to leave, Wells saw Slawson "scuffling" with Kelly and came to his rescue, striking Kelly on the face and knocking him two men apart. After doing this, he and Slawson left, leaving Landko and Waggoner alone a block and a half west of Pleasant street. At the time the scuffle occurred, Wells admitted that he as well as his companions were intoxicated but that he had no idea that Kelly had been robbed. Later he found out this when Waggoner said, "I got that follow for six dollars" and that the others were no good. Wells also said that when Slawson asked Waggoner to divide, the latter refused. Witness then traced their wanderings from River street to the lunch counter on Academy, from there to the resort on Locust street, back to the lunch wagon, from there to the resort on North River street where Slawson was left intoxicated on the grass. Wells also stated that he did not know where Waggoner was but thought that he was in the "Dakota" harvest fields as he had expressed his intention of going there "Saturday night." He also expressed his willingness to plead guilty to a charge of assault and battery.

Landko's story of the night's happenings as told yesterday afternoon was practically the same as Wells'. May Robinson, who refused the quartet admission when they applied at the resort Saturday night, also testified and identified Slawson as one of those who appeared to be under the influence of liquor to a greater degree than the other three. She also said that Kelly after being knocked to the ground, did not wish the police to be notified. Wells and Landko both deny that robbery was the motive of the assault and that Waggoner must have gone through Kelly before Slawson began to scuffle with him.

SWITCH ENGINE IN INTERURBAN'S WAY

No. 167 Settled in Soft Ground Up to Drive Wheels at Belt Line Crossing Last Evening.

For some reason or other, and that reason has not yet been discovered, switch-engine 167 got tied up on the rails yesterday afternoon about half past four, and simply waited for a setting man on the tracks of the interurban where they cross the belt line of the North-Western at the Calumet company's factory on McKoy boulevard. The engine settled in the soft ground up to the axles of the drive wheels and refused to budge for some time, completely blocking the interurban cars and causing much distress to those who attempted to replace the obstinate locomotive on the rails. Yardmaster Griffin arrived on the scene about five o'clock and aided by Engineer Cole and Switchman Clough who had charge of the crew, succeeded in getting 167 back to its rightful position. No reason could be discovered for the antics of the engine and except for blocking the interurban cars, no damage was done.

Death Brought an End to Her Sufferings at Three O'clock This Morning.

After an illness lasting nine weeks, Mrs. May Ormsbee, wife of C. I. Ormsbee, died this morning about three o'clock at her home 750 South Main street. Since the death of her father, William H. Ormsbee, Mrs. Ormsbee has been in ill health and an attack of nervous prostration brought on the disease which caused her death.

Mrs. Ormsbee was born in the town of Lima, May 16, 1874. She was married March 22, 1899, to C. I. Ormsbee, and immediately after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Ormsbee went to Platteville and lived there for some time.

They returned to Janesville two years ago and then came to Janesville which has since been their home. During the eight years that she has lived here Mrs. Ormsbee has had many friends to whom her loss will be a deep sorrow. By her death four small children are left motherless. She leaves to mourn her loss, a husband, four children, Lorain, Marion, Hazel, and Glen, a mother, Mrs. H. H. Ormsbee, and a brother, E. B. Ormsbee, of this city.

The funeral will be held Friday morning at 10:30 from the home of her mother, Mrs. H. J. Bullock, 778 South Main street. Interment will be in the cemetery at North Johnston.

3,000 PEOPLE

Were On the Show Grounds, Corner Academy and Milwaukee Sts. Last Night to Hear Vurpillat and Witness His Entertainment.

Office at 509 W. Milwaukee St. Crowded All Day Yesterday.

A Monster Taps Worm Destroyed. The second night of Vurpillat's free lecture and entertainment was well attended. Fully three thousand people were on the Milwaukee street show grounds last night and well recompensed for the time spent.

The appreciation of the people is shown by the manner in which they conduct themselves with all the features. A noteworthy feature is the absence of loud and boisterous language and the gentlemanly conduct of the boys.

One notable feature of Vurpillat's lectures is that he uses the utmost precaution not to make any statement of which he is not thoroughly convinced. Just before closing his discourse Vurpillat invited any one suffering with any ache or pain, stiff or swollen joints, or deafness, to step upon the platform and he would demonstrate upon them free of charge. One gentleman took advantage of this offer. He was suffering with severe rheumatic pains in the arm and side. After five minutes' application of the Now Discover he stated that all trace of pain had left.

A large crowd visited the office yesterday from the system of Mr. Carl Ring of the Marathon Co. Bank, Wausau. In speaking of his case Mr. Ring said: "For the past two years I have been a sufferer from stomach trouble. I was constantly suffering intense pain in my stomach. At times my appetite was ravenous. At times the very sight of food would sicken me. I passed water and blood. I was unable to sleep and was more tired than before I went to bed. Having heard of the Now Discover, I concluded to try it. As I had tried most everything without results. To my surprise after taking from six to eight doses I passed this monster tap worm, and I can truthfully recommend this remedy to any one suffering as I did."

A large crowd visited the office yesterday. Some came from mere curiosity, others to obtain information in regard to the ill of a particular friend unable to come themselves, but the majority came to consult in regard to their individual case.

All were met with the same courtesy and no one went away unless thoroughly satisfied.

The office is open from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m., where consultation and examination are free to all.

The Man From Brodney's

By GEORGE BARR M'CUTCHEON

Copyright, 1908, by Dodd, Mead & Co.

Neenah may have felt the magnetic current that coursed through these surcharged creatures. She was smiling mysteriously to herself.

"Wait here," she whispered to Chase, ever so softly. She released his hand and moved off in the blackness of the passage. "I will bring Selim," came back to them.

"Oh!" fell faintly, tremulously, from Geneva's lips. It was a trap, after all! But it was not the trap laid by a traitor. She felt all aglow. Her heart fluttered violently; her breath came quickly. Alone with him, and their blood leaping to the touch that thrilled!

"Chase could no more have restrained the hand that went out suddenly in quest of hers than he could have checked his own heart throbs. A wave of exquisite joy swept over him—the joy of a temptation that knew no fear, no conscience. He found her cold little hand and clasped it in tense fingers—fingers that trembled with the call to passion. He drew her close; their bodies touched and sweetly trembled.

"Are you afraid?" he whispered in tones he had never heard before.

"Yes," she murmured convulsively—"of you! Please, please, don't!"

At the same time she tightened her clutch upon his hand and crept closer to him, governed by an unconquerable craving. Chase had the sensation of smothering. He could not believe the senses which told him that she was responding to his appeal.

"Geneva!" he murmured, almost gasped, in his delirium. His arms went about her slender figure suddenly, and she was strained to his breast, locked to him with bonds that seemed unbreakable. Her face was lifted to his. The blackness of the passage was impenetrable, but love was the guide. He found her lips in one wild, glorious kiss.

A door creaked sharply. He released her. Their quivering arms fell away. They drew ever so slightly apart, still under the control of the influence which had held them for that brief moment. She was trembling violently. A soft, smiling sigh as of pain came from her lips.

"Then the glimmer of a light came to them through the half open door at the end of the passage. They gazed at it without comprehension, dumb in their sudden weakness. A shadowy figure came out through the door, and Selim's voice, low and tones, called to them.

"Forgive me," he murmured. "It is too late," she replied. Then his hand sought hers again, and, dazed with emotion, he led her up to the open door. As they passed into the huge, dimly lighted chamber he turned to look into her face. She met his gaze, and there were tears in her eyes. Selim was ahead of them. She shook her head sadly, and he understood.

"Can't we ever forget?" she murmured plaintively.

"Never!" he whispered.

"Then we shall always regret—always regret!" she said, withdrawing her hand. "It was the beginning and the end."

"Not the end, dearest one—if we are always to regret," he interposed eagerly. "But why the end? You do love me! I know it! And I worship you—oh, you don't know how I worship you, Geneva!"

"Hush! I was foolish! Don't, please! I do not love you. I was carried away by—Oh, can't you understand? Remember what I said. You know and yet you have degraded me in my own eyes. Is my own self-respect nothing? You will laugh and you may boast after I am married to—"

"Geneva!" he protested as if in great pain.

CATHOLIC DRINK FOES HOLD ANNUAL SESSION

Total Abstinence Union of America Convened in Chicago—Opens with Solemn Mass.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—The Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America began its thirty-ninth annual convention in Chicago this morning with the celebration of solemn mass in Holy Name cathedral. Archbishop Quigley was present and the celebrant was Rt. Rev. Paul P. Rhode.

The convention has drawn to Chicago hundreds of priests and laymen who are earnest and influential workers in the war against the drink evil. The president of the union is Rev. James T. Coffey of St. Louis, and he called to order the first session of the delegates in the Auditorium theater at noon. The afternoon was devoted mainly to routine work. Last night the executive council, spiritual directors and officers of subordinate unions held a preliminary meeting.

This evening comes the great feature of the convention—a public mass meeting in the Auditorium. It will be preceded by a parade of the societies of the Illinois state union and the delegates. The meeting will be addressed by Rt. Rev. J. P. Regis Canavin of Pittsburgh—on "The Observance of Sunday." Rev. James M. Reardon of St. Paul, Minn., on "The Catholic Church and the American Saloon." Rev. Ulrich Mueller, president of the Ohio state union, on "The Total Abstinence Movement," and others.

The convention continues throughout tomorrow and Friday, the afternoon of the last day being set aside for a lake excursion.

ROOSEVELT LAUDS AFRICA.

Interested in the Country, He Says, at a Banquet.

Nairobi, British East Africa, Aug. 4.—Theodore Roosevelt and his son Kermit were the guests of honor at a public banquet given in Nairobi. Frederick J. Jackson, governor of British East Africa, was chairman and 175 persons sat at table.

Mr. Roosevelt, in reply to the toast proposed by Gov. Jackson said:

"I wish to take this opportunity to thank the people of British East Africa for their generous and courteous hospitality. I have had a thorough good time. I am immensely interested in the country and its possibilities as an abode for white men. Very large tracts are fit for a fine population and healthy and prosperous settlements, and it would be a calamity to neglect them. But the settlers must be of the right type. I believe that one of the best feats performed by members of the white race in the last ten years is the building of the Uganda railroad."

In conclusion, Mr. Roosevelt drew a comparison of the conditions as he had found them in British East Africa with those that confronted the pioneers of western America.

The Advertisements Tell a Wonderfully Interesting and Comprehensive Story to the Buying Public

One of the largest announcements told how to make a summer room of your porch, explaining the benefits derived from living out of doors, advising the cost, etc. It spoke of a saving of 61c on new curtains, a saving of 52c on parasols, a saving of from 35c to $4.05 on waists, a saving of half on summer suits.

Another large announcement showed a saving of $2.55 to $10.05 on men's suits, a saving of 65c on shoes for women and misses, a saving of 80c on shoes for men, a saving of 36c on men's shirts, a saving of 20% to 25% on children's clothing, and other items.

Another announcement asks you if you pay more than $10 per thousand for insurance, at the age of 25, the price at which it offers you a policy.

GIRLS WANTED, guaranteeing wages of $1.00 per day is of vital importance to more than one girl, announced in the next.

Quality is responsible for its favor, says another of a good cigar.

The next features hosiery that look like silk, feel like silk and wear equal to any 50c hose, yet the price is only 25c. Worth looking into? Also fine ribbed union suits at 50c, school hose at 15c.

One advertiser offers Bananas at 5c per doz., large, ripe and yellow.

And last but not least is a beautiful announcement of "Values of rare interest to Vacation Tourists" in suit cases, matting cases and travel bags.

These stories are all told on a single page of a single issue of The Gazette. A close reading of the advertisements will keep you well informed. They will prove as interesting—to your pocketbook as well as your mind—day after day. We say "Read the advertisements and save money." Probably you have read it many times and not considered it seriously. Next time you see it, remember it has deep significance. Women who are thrifty are women who are informed where to buy the best for the least money, and the advertisements is the place they look. Many men and women read the advertisements even before they read the news.

One wise publisher predicts that writers will soon be asking to have their articles published next to the advertisements so that it will stand a good chance of being read while people are reading the ads.

A Great Special Price Sale of Waists

Pretty?—irresistibly so! Well made?—Perfect in every little detail! Low priced? Never offered such waist bargains! We bought these direct from the maker—we consider him the best waistmaker in the world. If there is another man who can turn out waists as good as his—he isn't making maists at the present time. Most of these are the famous Standard waists. This means a lot—the best styles—made of the choicest fabrics—and exact in every particular. Of course they will sell fast. Prices so ridiculously low as are quoted—will enthruse the most eager buying. And they go by two and threes, so unusual are they in value.

Mid-Summer Clearance of Colored Dress Muslins

An exceptionally brilliant opportunity.

30 pieces, about 500 yards, of our choicest 25c Dainties, stripe and check, grounds in white, new blue, black and navy, in dainty colored figures, flowers or stripes.

We cannot emphasize too strongly the daintiness of styles. Most all colors are offered.

These goods were held back during our last sale of muslins at 14c per yard, as we considered them too good to sacrifice. Compared to the hundreds of yards we have sold this season, this lot is small, but large enough to make a good many women happy. We do not care to carry over a yard of these summer dress muslins, all on sale at 14c per yard.
